enabled to furnish its readers with the latest intelligence of the actions of the higher courts and of the various departments of the State. It will also contain the latest telegraphic news of stiring events, and also of the New York, Cincin nati, Louisville and New Orleans markets.

In politics the Commonwealth will be conservative, occupying a middle and antagonistic ground in reference to the two extremes. The old parties broken up, and old issues virtually dead, the vital question at present is Union or disunion. The Commonwealth is for the Union, believing it to be the greatest safeguard for our rights, as well as our most effective auxiliary in our efforts to obtain redress for our wrongs. Its conductors do not regard disunion as a remedy for any of the wrongs of the South, but rather an aggravation. It will contend for the equality of the States in the Union, and for the absolute non-interference by Congress with the domestic affairs of the States

We shall aim to make the Commonwealth an acceptable and appropriate fireside companion. It will contain selections from the choicest literature of the day, prose, poetry, &c.

The WEEKLY will be printed on extra double medium paper, in new and beautiful type. Terms, in advance, for the Tri-Weekly, $4 per from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the consequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the poisonous miasm of vegetable decay. This exhalation is evolved by the action of solar heat on wet soil, and rises with the watery vapor from it. While the sun is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the lungs into the blood. There it acts as an irritating poison on the internal viscera and excreting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and fails to secrete not only this virus, but also the bile from the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitusecrete not only this virus, but also the other form the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathize with the liver, and become disordered also. Finally, the instinct of our organism, as if in an attempt to expel the noxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal excretories to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This is the Chill. But in this effortit fails. Then the Feven follows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poison through that other great excretory—the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandons the attempt exhausted, and waits for the recovery of strength to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the fits or paroxysms of Feven and Ague. Such constitutional disorder will of course undermine the health if it is not removed.

Fever and Ague,

We have labored to find, and have found, an antidote,

Ayer's Ague Cure, which neutralizes this malarious poison in the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the body. As it should, so it does eure this afflicting disorder with perfect certainty. And it does more, or rather does what is of more service to those subject to this infection. If taken in season it expels it from the system as it is absorbed, and thus keeps those who use it free from its attacks; keeps the system in health although exposed to the disease. Consequently it not only cures, but protects from, the great variety of affections which are induced by this malignant influence, such as Remittent the great variety of affections which are induced by this malignant influence, such as Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb, or Masked Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, Bilious Fevers, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitations, Painful Affections of the Spleen, Hysterics, Colic, Paralysis, and Painful Affections of the Stomach and Bowels, all of which, when arising from this cause, will be found to assume more or less the intermittent type. This "Ague Cure" removes the cause of these derangements, and cures the disease.

This it accomplishes by stimulating the excre-

This it accomplishes by stimulating the excre-This it accomplishes by stimulating the excretories to expel the virus from the system; and these organs by degrees become habited to do this their office of their own accord. Hence arises what we term acclimatation. Time may accomplish the same end, but often life is not long enough, or is sacrificed in the attempt, while this "AGUE CURE" does it at once, and with safety. We have great reason to believe this is a surer as well as safer remedy for the whole class of diseases which are caused by the miasmatic infection, than any other which has been discovered; and it has still another important advantage to the public, which is, that it is cheap as well as good.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1861.

Office of Clerk of the Senate. The Clerk of the Senate would inform the of Bull Run. members of the Legislature and all other or he is otherwise necessarily absent. Governor's Message.

The Governor insists that he is, and ever has been, anxious to maintain the neutrality of Kentucky, preserve the peace, and save us from the horrors of civil war.

He is exceedingly solicitous to impress upon the Legislature that he is determined to carry out their wishes with fidelity, whether the policy adopted may accord with his own judgment or not. This is right, and we trust will be honestly adhered to.

This message, like the former messages of the Governor, is remarkable in setting forth, in the most aggravated light, what he regards as violations of the Federal Constitution by the President of the United States. and carefully avoiding any reference to the unconstitutional acts of the seceded States. Not one word of condemnation escapes our Governor against them for trampling the Constitution under foot, insulting our flag, forcibly seizing of the public property-in forts, arsenals and mints-compelling United States garrisons to surrender, and finally commencing an open war by bombarding Fort Sumpter. Does the Governor approve these outrages? It is fair to infer that he does, from his failure to say anything on the subject by way of condemnation. At this moment a message is received in the House of Representatives, announcing the invasion of Kentucky by Confederate troops. This is unaccompanied with any word of condemnation or recommendation.

The Governor earnestly urges the President of the United States to disband, or remove the camps from Kentucky. These men are Kentuckians-officered by Kentuckians, with the avowed purpose of maintaining the peace of the State, and repelling any invasion, but for no aggressive purpose. These encampments have been superinduced by the presence of a large military force, sta- tertained that the back bone linament will tract between him and the State, Some of Depot, and Bridgeport. Frankfort is my tioned along our southern boundary, and just have to be applied to any member who was inside of the Tennessee line.

Now, is it not a little strange that the Gova threatning menace to Kentucky? But shall we sit down quietly, be satisfied with assurances, and thus leave the State in a position to be conquered at any moment when the Confederate Government may deem it to their advantage? They say their troops are not intended as a menace, nor intended for the invasion of Kentucky. We reply that our troops are not intended as a menace, nor for the purpose of invading Tennessee. It is not the part of wisdom or prudence for us to wait until war is actually commenced before we take a step towards preparing for it. If these camps are disbanded, Kentucky will be an easy prey. Soon the war will be transferred to our homes, and the soil of the State crimsoned with the blood of its citizens. The only way to keep the peace, and prevent war in Kentucky, is to place the State in a condition to be able at any moment to repel invasion.

They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels-removing Costiveness.

For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system. The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach. They are entirely vegetable in their composition and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the ab sence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

A Practical Treatise for the use of Justices of the Peace, Constables, Sheriffs, Jailers, and Coroners in Kentucky.

BY RICHARD H. STANTON, MAYSVILLE, KY.

70,223 59 THIS NEW WORK, WHICH HAS been prepared with unusual diligence and 15,000 00 care by the author, is intended to be a complete and perfect guide to Justices of the Peace, and the other officers named above, in the discharge of their respective duties under the laws of the state. Its arrangement is such, that while it presents to the officer a full view of the law which he may be called upon to enforce, whether civil or criminal, it affords him such complete and accurate instruc-16,750 00 tions as to the practical manner of discharging his duties, in each particular case, that it will be almost impossible for the least informed among them to go astray. Every necessary form which a justice of the peace, or other officer may require in the course of his official duties, will be found in its appropri-$936,709 59 ate place in the work; and the instructions are 66,930 85 so full, perspicuous and clear, that it will be found an invaluable official companion to those for whom the treatise is intended, and a highly useful work to the legal profession, and all others having business with those officers. The author has spared no labor to make it just such a work as is now most needed by the class of officers whose duties are so fully and clearly explained, and his well known accuracy and success will commend it to the hearty patronage of all persons in Kentucky concerned in the administration of the law. The work contains six hundred and fifty octavo pages, is printed on fine paper, and with large, clear type, and bound in the very best style. S. C. BULL, Frankfort, Ky.
